—QUAKES STRIKE AGAIN—

Misery Fills Rocked Chile

Santiago, Chile (P) — The earth-shaking that has killed thousands and remade the topographical map of Chile in a week of disaster continued Friday amid a great effort to relieve the hunger and misery of survivors. Earthquakes and volcanic violence still spread terror over Southern Chile.

At one illustrative point on a vast panorama of pathos, police had to fire warning shots over the heads of disaster victims who in the desperation of hunger had tried to pounce on emergency food stocks set up for orderly distribution at stricken Valdivia.

Valdivia, a city of 100,000, was one of the hardest hit in the weeklong series of Chilean disasters for which officials estimate the death toll may reach 5,000.

As reports continued to come in from remote areas, the list of dead and missing climbed.

Landslide

A landslide in the mountain community of Rupanco Tuesday buried 113 persons under tons of rocks, it was reported Friday, pushing the known total of dead and missing to close to 3,000.

Slightly north of Rupanco, tons of boiling lava poured into Lake Ranco, sweeping over people and houses. At least 11 persons were killed by the lava, and many others were still missing.

The lava was from Mt. Carran, southeast of Valdivia, one of 6 long inactive volcanoes in the region which have erupted, belching smoke and ashes over hundreds of miles.

Police said roads in the Mt. Carran area were completely covered by lava.

Two new volcanoes and new mountains have been born as a result of the earthquakes, new islands have sprung up off-shore and new lakes have appeared, while old valleys, mountains, lakes and islands have disappeared.

Two new quakes, registering between 5 and 6 on a scale of 12, were reported by the University of Chile's Seismological Institute Friday.

At Valdivia, where about 40% of the business and industrial areas are in ruins, the desperate need for food and water was made worse by the poor condition of the airport which prevented big U.S. Air Force Globemasters from landing with supplies.

But smaller U.S. and Chilean planes were ferrying in food, blankets, medicine, clothes and medical personnel.

Tragic

U.S. Navy Cmdr. Robert E. Merchant, of the Navy mission in Chile, piloted supplies to Valdivia and reported the situation tragic.

"Many people are without food and water," he said. "Even U.S. military men there helping us get the supplies in haven't been eating anything and they can't drink the water. We left them all the sandwiches we had. Health officials are terrified that epidemics may break out from contaminated water."

BROOKS, WIFE DELEGATES TO DEMO SESSION

Both Gov. and Mrs. Ralph Brooks were elected as delegates to the Democratic state convention at the Red Willow County Democratic convention.

Mrs. Charles Wiggins of Lebanon and Jack Kidd of McCook also were named as delegates from Red Willow County.

—RUSSIA ABSTAINS FROM VOTE IN U.N. COUNCIL—

NEW SUMMIT URGED

SOVIET VETO SIDESTEPED

... Lodge And Gromyko Clash Again

United Nations, N.Y. (P)—The Security Council called Friday on the Big 4 powers to resume negotiations on major East-West issues with U.N. help. But hot U.S.-Soviet exchanges that preceded the vote raised doubts the action would have any immediate practical results.

The vote was 9-0, with two abstentions, on a 4-nation resolution aimed at ending a week of angry debate on a harmonious note. The abstainers were Soviet Union and Poland.

Last-minute diplomatic maneuvering avoided an outright Soviet veto.

The resolution, as adopted, avoided any specific reference to halting of aerial spy flights as demanded by the Russians.

It contained a general appeal to all governments "to respect each other's sovereignty, territorial integrity and political independence, and to refrain from any action which might increase tensions."

Final Try Fails

The Soviet Union lost out in a final attempt to have the Council put into the resolution a statement that aerial flights by one country over the territory of another constituted a threat to peace.

The vote on that section of the resolution was 2 in favor, 6 against and 3 abstentions. Only Poland and the Soviet Union voted yes. Ecuador, abstained.

Fresh in the minds of U.N. delegates was Friday morning's clash between U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Lodge declared internal political pressures caused the Soviet Union to provoke the crisis over the U2 spy plane incident with the aim of creating a pretext for a new zigzag in foreign policy.

Gromyko Answered

He lashed out at Gromyko for charging that President Eisenhower's policies had brought mankind to the brink of war. He said internal pressures appeared to be dictating Gromyko's course.

He added that the only other possible explanation is "that Mr. Gromyko has taken leave of his senses, and I do not consider that this has happened."

Gromyko recalled to the Council that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had used kind words about Eisenhower in the past, but said the United States could not expect such expressions now.

The Soviet foreign minister had previously described the resolution as "toothless" and "pointless" without a specific condemnation of aerial spying.

The resolution, submitted by Ecuador, Ceylon, Argentina and Tunisia, expressed regret at the collapse of the summit conference in Paris.

Boy 1st Holiday Fatality

By The Associated Press

A little toddler became the nation's first reported traffic victim of the current holiday Friday night as Americans hit the road for 3 days of fun on Memorial Day weekend, traditional kick-off for summer vacations.

The victim, 10-month-old Armos Loyer, was struck and killed by a truck driven by his father, Theodore, in the driveway of their home near Wakeman, Ohio. He was one of 5 Loyer children.

The holiday is the first of 3 Saturday-Sunday-Monday weekends of Spring and Summer. July 4 also falls on Monday as does Labor Day every year.

Memorial Day, primarily a holiday set aside for honoring the nation's war dead, has become the day on which city dwellers open their summer cottages, take boats off their winter docks, install swimming pools and rafts. Resort men reckon it as the day the seasonal tourist rush begins.

The National Safety Council estimated that nearly all the 73 million automobiles in the nation will be on the go sometime during the holiday period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday. Altogether they will cover more than seven billion miles.

SHOWERS TO CUT HOLIDAY WEEKEND FUN?

Memorial Day weekend picnics may get rained on as scattered showers and thunderstorms are on the docket for Saturday afternoon and evening.

Temperatures will range from in the 70s west to 75 to 85 east.

Grand Island reported the state high Friday of 81 degrees, with the state low of 40 reported at North Platte.

Lincoln's Friday high and low temperatures were 78 and 52.

Jubilant Turks Cheer Ouster Of Menderes

Istanbul, Turkey (P)—Jubilant Turks cheered through the streets Friday, hailing military leaders for ousting the dictatorial Premier Adnan Menderes.

Menderes and many of his ministers and parliamentary supporters were under arrest following the early morning coup.

A military spokesman hinted the deposed Premier might be put on trial.

The head of the new ruling military group declared he has no desire to become a dictator.

Papers Resume

Newspapers silenced by Menderes' increasingly arbitrary regime were told they could resume publishing immediately. Under Menderes many editors had been summarily imprisoned. Announcements said all public officials will return to their normal duties Saturday. Military commanders were ordered to insure that the situation in the country remains normal.

Restrictions on landings at Turkish airports, imposed during the day, were lifted.

Throughout the nation the population reacted with relief at the overthrow of Menderes' government. In Istanbul civilians embraced members of the armed forces in the streets. There were tears of joy from youthful demonstrators who had spearheaded protests against the Menderes regime.

Gunfire

There was some gunfire but military authorities denied reports that one cadet was killed in a brief fight with guards at the presidential palace.

Units from all the armed forces quickly followed up the march of the cadets and the coup was in full swing.

Cheered

There also were cheers

Gursel heads the group of high ranking air force, army and navy officers who set up "the Turkish National Union Committee."

The rebellion that ended the 10-year Menderes' regime after weeks of unrest and demonstrations started in Ankara just after midnight.

"I tried to reason with the politicians," he said, "but they were blinded by ambition. They would not listen and wanted to go on by force. We had to act."

Under his orders, Dean Siddik Sami Omar of Istanbul University was flown to Ankara, reportedly to form a provisional government. The educator was beaten by police after student riots against the Menderes regime April 28 signaled the way to rebellion.

Ike Took Rap For U2 Spy Flight To Avoid Khrush Trap--Herter

SENATORS ANSWERED

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter testified Friday that President Eisenhower took personal responsibility for spy flights over Russia to avoid a trap set for him by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Furthermore, Herter told critical senators, it was better to tell the truth about the flights—once Khrushchev had evidence to prove them—than to be drawn deeper and deeper into a lie before the world.

But he acknowledged the President took unprecedented action in making a clean breast of the affair and assuming responsibility for the espionage operations.

Leadoff Witness
The secretary of state was leadoff witness in a hearing called by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in an effort to get to the bottom of the U2 spy plane incident and the causes of the summit failure in Paris May 16. Testimony is being given behind closed doors, with transcripts made public after security censoring.

Herter denied that Soviet capture of a wrecked U2 spy plane and its pilot May 1 was wholly responsible for the collapse of the Summit conference 16 days later. But he conceded it was a factor. Khrushchev used the U2 incident to blow up the Big 4 meeting and tried to put the blame on Eisenhower, Herter declared, adding:

"The assumption is that he had received his orders before he went to Paris."

COURT SAYE KIDS WERE NEGLECTED

Four children who reportedly had been beaten by their mother's boy friend were found dependent and neglected Friday in Juvenile Court and their custody was given to the Juvenile Probation Office.

Judge Harry A. Spencer ordered that the 4 children of Mrs. Patricia Curry, 34, of 2745 Garfield, be permitted to live with their grandmother, Mrs. Grace Curry of 2217 Sewell.

Police said the children had told school officials of home conditions which included severe beatings by Mrs. Patricia Curry's boy friend, Svend Langsem, 40, of 2642 A, and of being fed dog food.

Langsem has pleaded innocent in County Court to an assault and battery charge involving an alleged beating of 13-year-old David Curry and Mrs. Patricia Curry has pleaded innocent to a charge of contributing to the neglect of her children. Both are awaiting trial.

The other Curry children are Bryanne, 10, Kyle, 11, and Kristie, 8. Their mother is a divorcee.

'You, 8 Others' Could Die On State Roads

It could be you and 8 other adults, children or teen-agers who may die this week end on Nebraska highways if past experience holds true, state accident records bureau chief Tom Ryan said Friday.

In an open letter to motorists, Ryan said these tragedies will most likely be the result of gross negligence and wanton carelessness of drivers who refuse to accept or do not realize their responsibilities to themselves or their fellow drivers.

'We Guard Economy'—Merle Rider

By J. Paul Farrell

"We are the custodians of a free economy, challenging the Kremlin," a labor specialist on the Landrum-Griffin Act said Friday night in Lincoln.

Merle Rider of Kansas City, speaking to Lincoln labor union officers, continued: "The maintenance of highest ethics between management and labor becomes increasingly important in light of this."

Rider, acting compliance officer in charge of Bureau of Labor-Management reports of the regional office of the United States Department of Labor in Kansas City, said:

"The gross national product will increase 24% in the next decade; along with this, expected population increases will make labor-management problems more complex."

He outlined what is being accomplished by the Landrum-Griffin Act and reviewed the 6 main portions of the bill.

To carry out the program of the act, 25 offices have been established, he said.

WESLEYAN UPHELD IN ESTATE CASE

Nebraska Wesleyan University was upheld by the State Supreme Court Friday in an action brought against it by the estate of Charity B. Couch, who gave the school a $5,000 note in 1927 to establish scholarships.

The estate maintained the note was not a valid obligation and claim. Mrs. Couch died in 1958.

The note was to establish the "Ilus and Charity Couch Memorial Scholarships" for worthy girls. The school contended it was payable at or before her death, but that no payment had been made except a sum of $500 which had been refunded.

The Keith County Court disallowed the school's claim, but the district court for Keith County reversed it and said the school should be allowed $5,000 plus 6 per cent interest from the date of Mrs. Couch's death.

CITY FIREMEN WILL INSPECT

Lincoln firemen will begin their annual home inspection program next Wednesday, Fire Chief Roscoe Benton said Friday.

The firemen will visit all homes in the city and inspect them for possible fire hazards.

Benton said the firemen will work in teams of two, will be in uniform and will wear badges and name tags. He said the program, of course, is on a voluntary basis but said he hopes home owners will co-operate as they have in past years.

Benton said the inspections probably will take 3 to 4 months to complete.

London Dress Shop Hikes Models' Skirts; Girls Do, Too

By Eddy Gilmore

London (AP)—A London dress shop hiked the skirts of its dummy models 4 inches above the knees—and hundreds of real live girls followed suit.

"It started out as a gimmick," said a spokesman for the busy Oxford Street store. "Now it's become a craze." He explained that one day in early spring the shop manager began thinking of a new way to catch the eyes of window shoppers. He hit on the super-short skirt.

"We raised the skirts to about an inch above the dummy models' knees," he said, "and then put three stiff petticoats beneath them. That got them pretty high."

He said no one in the shop ever dreamed they were starting a style. But the effect was immediate.

"The girls are dictating this fashion," said the shop's chief designer.

The spokesman said the store manager told his clerks to warn every purchaser of the perils involved in wearing skirts 4 to 6 inches above the knee.

"The view from the bottom of an escalator, for instance, takes in territory far above the 4 to 6 inches," he added. "We can't understand it. The girls don't seem to care."

BROOKS BACK AFTER WEEK AT MCCOOK HOME

Saunders Turns Down Watershed's Program

By Virgil Falloon
Lancaster County together with precincts in Cass, Butler, Seward and Saline Counties voted 24,556 to 9,343 for the formation of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District in the recent election.

Saunders County turned down the watershed district by a 2,020 to 1,487 vote. However, voting in Ashland and Wahoo favored the district.

Lancaster County Election Commissioner Fred Cassidy released the results of the official canvass Friday.

In Lancaster County voting, the approving action carried 24,322 to 9,040. It was favored in all 104 city precincts, but in only 16 of the 36 rural precincts.

Other Counties
Voting in the other counties, whose precincts were counted in with the Lancaster County precincts, was Butler, 44 to 32; Cass, 120 to 119; Saline, 3 to 3 and Seward, 67 to 149.

Only Saunders County had the option of voting itself in

3-Yr-Old Hurt Slightly In Hillside Accident

A 3-year-old Lincoln boy suffered minor injuries in a car-pedestrian accident on Hillside between 46th and 48th, according to the police department.

Dennis P. Wilkason of 3515 So. 48th was treated and released at a local clinic.

The mishap occurred, police said, as the youth crossed the street in front of a vehicle, driven by Howard A. Betts, 20, of LAFB.

Kiwanians Aid To Ag Hall Of Fame

An aid to Nebraska's fund raising for the Agriculture Hall of Fame came Friday in the form of an inter-club meeting between the Kiwanis Clubs of Lincoln and Kansas City, Kansas.

The "only Hall of Fame which will recognize an entire section of America" was described Friday to Lincoln Kiwanis Club members by Howard A. Cowden of Kansas City, Mo., president of the board of governors of the Agricultural Hall of Fame.

"Our hope is that it will dramatize the contributions of agriculture to the entire nation," Cowden said.

The proposed farm center will be located about 12 miles west of Kansas City on a 409-acre site. It has a financial goal of $5 million to complete the project which is to include 10 areas of educational and historical displays.

Economy Dependent
The whole economy, particularly the Midwest, depends on agriculture, Cowden said, and we should take this opportunity of recognizing the contributions of farmers.

Also present at the Lincoln Kiwanis meeting were 44 members of the Kansas City,

CPPD OK's $168,000 Equipment, Projects

... $60,000 SET FOR WORK IN LINCOLN

Consumers Public Power District's Board of Directors Friday approved $168,606 for equipment and construction projects, including work in downtown Lincoln.

The board held its regular meeting in Lincoln after a tour of the 100,000-kilowatt Sheldon Station steam plant and the related sodium graphite-type nuclear power facility near Hallam. The board is scheduled to look at bids at its June meeting, on construction of an administration building for the Hallam plant.

The largest project approved Friday was a $60,051 investment for the initial phase of work on an underground power service system in the alley between 11th and 12th and 'N' and 'O' Streets. The work is to be completed in 1961.

Approval was given for $2,800 to build a line for temporary service to the Atlas missile base near Cortland. Western Construction Co., Sioux City, Ia., will use the line for construction activity. Another $16,539 was OK'd to build a 34,500-volt line, and sub-station to handle the power load of Central City Dehydrated Alfalfa Mill.

Other projects OK'd by the board include, $36,100 for the Shelton - Denman - Hayland - Prosser - Kenesaw - Heartwell area; $7,000 to 'beef up' the Spencer sub-station to handle increased power loads; $5,518 for rebuilding about 1 1/2 miles of 4,160-volt rural line in the Martinsburg area; $28,848 approved to replace 49 two-way radios in CPPD vehicles with split-channel tuning.

Precision Transformer Co., Chicago, was awarded an $8,454 contract for 3 33-KVA transformers to be used at the new 50,000-head cattle feeding lot near Minatare.

A Solid 'No'

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

When it comes to what some people call "liberal" programs, it evidently makes no difference whether Nebraska sends Democrats or Republicans back to Washington. The aid-to-depressed-areas bill passed by Congress and vetoed by the President was opposed in the House by Nebraska's two GOP and two Demo representatives.

Just this week, the entire delegation voted together again — against a $1,300,000,000 federal aid to education bill. Reports indicate that the group was pretty unanimous in its belief that Nebraska did not need or want such aid and that the bill would mean federal control of our educational system. The delegation may be correct in their analysis of the majority sentiment of Nebraska, although there is no way of knowing this for sure. But if they are correct, it does not necessarily mean they are right. Many schools in Nebraska are now using federal aid for a variety of purposes.

The Lincoln school system has used it extensively and we have yet to see the slightest federal influence in the local system. Nor do we know of any other areas where federal interference or control can be shown to be a fact. Until this scare claim can be proved, it is difficult to understand what Nebraska has against federal aid to education.

The state jumps at many other forms of federal aid, most of them calling for federal controls which are clearly stipulated. Some Lincoln officials have practically had a fit because the federal government might not build us a flood control and recreation dam on Antelope Creek. They have insulted and misquoted the Army Corps of Engineers in their outspoken bursts of indignation.

Yet, in education we take an entirely different approach. Education officials express fears about the rising turnover among rural school superintendents and the difficulty of obtaining and keeping qualified teachers on the staffs of schools throughout the state. We admit we have made constructive progress but that we are still behind on a statewide basis in our physical plant facilities. We still have more small and inefficient school districts than any other state in the Union.

In opposing the federal program, Nebraska continues to run counter to the national trend, also. It may be that the only way to stop federal aid is for all the states to start refusing it but the reality of the thing is that all states are not going to refuse it. A majority of the states want it and will get it. Nebraska will pay taxes to support the program and the money will go to other states unless we participate. Even though we might persist in objection to the principle involved, we would be a little ridiculous to deny ourselves the benefits that might accrue to us.

If the Nebraska House delegation had wanted to do a service for Nebraska, they might have attempted to recognize the reality of the federal aid principle and lent their aid and effort to the movement in the hope of bringing out a House bill which allocated money on something other than a straight 50-50 matching basis.

The bill passed by the Senate uses a formula which gives more money to the poorer states. The House measure goes pretty well according to school age population and Nebraska will have little advantage over any other regions with such a measure. But if our House delegation did anything at all on this subject, it was as fruitless as the position taken on the final roll call.

It must be granted that both the Demo members of the House from Nebraska are just in their first terms but they have yet to show that their election constituted any improvement for the state over conditions as they existed prior to the 1958 elections. It is not necessary that Nebraska representatives or the people of the state go hog-wild over every spending scheme which hits the floor of the House and Senate. But it does seem that there comes a time when we should realize the true nature of situations and conditions and make an effort to do the best we can with what there is available.

When it comes to education, Nebraska is generally ranked pretty near the bottom in most tests of her program. It is an area of national concern and an issue in which this state has a more than average economic disadvantage. While we seem to have every reason to advance the cause of federal aid to education, we still maintain a minority position against it.

Protocol Hard On Table Talk

WASHINGTON — In Paris at the would-be summit conference the official luncheon for the heads of state was abruptly canceled by President de Gaulle. So were all other social functions. This prevented Madame de Gaulle from carrying out a novel idea which she proposed in Washington regarding the boredom of sitting beside certain people.

At the White House dinner in honor of de Gaulle, the first lady of France found herself seated beside Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

While Mme. de Gaulle is a great admirer of the Democratic processes, she discovered that she and the speaker had few interests in common—not even the same language. Mr. Sam was not enthusiastic about Paris, which he has never visited, and Mme. de Gaulle was not enthusiastic about Texas which she knew only through American movies. Yet protocol requires that guests of rank sit beside guests of equal rank.

Finally Mme. de Gaulle remarked to the protocol officer:

"You know, this question of protocol is a terrible thing. In Paris I find myself seated beside the same person at dinner after dinner without too much in common to talk about."

"But," she continued, "I have an idea. We should have a lottery to decide where we should sit at these official dinners. The men, as they came to dinner, could pull a number out of a red hat. It could be placed right near the door. And the women could pull a number out of a blue hat. Then they could match their numbers and thus decide beside whom they would sit at dinner.

"However," she signed the first lady of France, "I don't know whether I have enough strength to charge the bastions of protocol at this late date."

At the same time Vice President Nixon was urging home rule for the District of Columbia, House Republican leaders were secretly sabotaging it. Illinois' suave, savvy Congressman Les Arends, the GOP whip, slipped around to see Republicans who had signed a petition to force a vote on the "Home Rule" bill. Arends softly called attention to the district's large Negro population, suggested it wouldn't be a good idea to override the House Rules Committee which has bottled up the bill. He persuaded three members to withdraw their names from the petition: Brock of Nebraska, McDonough of California, and O'Konski of Wisconsin. . . . the election of former assistant Attorney General Alex Campbell as Democratic National Committeeman from Indiana was a slap at Party Chairman Paul Butler by his home state. Butler bitterly opposed Campbell's election

GOP Must Ponder Eisenhower Line

WASHINGTON — In his temperate report on the summit, President Eisenhower defended administration actions but declined to close the door on future negotiations with Russia. Within that framework, his critics can operate without resentment.

Republicans have believed that Eisenhower had built-in political antennae to the American people, and for that reason many followed him places they did not really wish to go. Since he cannot directly help them by being against a candidate for president, they have now to decide whether those same antennae are still in prime working condition.

For what he has, in effect, done is to tell them that peace is still the best issue, and he has offered the view, at a moment of high personal trial for himself, that retreat to the isolated bitterness of cold war is untenable.

This did not appear to be the early position of Vice-President Richard Nixon and other Republicans, including Senate Leader Everett Dirksen, who sprang so quickly to the attack on critical Democrats.

While his own party decides whether or not to accept the Eisenhower political judgment on its best future course, a group of Democrats are trying to get equal time for Adlai Stevenson to reply to him. The networks are unexpectedly hospitable to the idea that the loyal opposition should have its say, but Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has proved a roadblock. Butler, already under fire for what has seemed to many his efforts to forward the candidacy of Sen. John Kennedy, professes scruples about letting Stevenson speak for the party. Admittedly Stevenson's presidential position is ambiguous; he is not a candidate, but he is available.

The argument being made for him is that he can clarify the Democratic position better than anyone else and secure the largest audience. Obviously, it would not do to choose one of the three senators who are openly in the race, and chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has declined to consider it because he is conducting a summit inquiry approved by members of both parties.

Stevenson has said of the Eisenhower report that the summit would have served a good purpose if it had banished the notion that "an easy silence" was necessary to the conduct of foreign policy. He praised the President for his willingness to continue negotiating with Russia and expressed doubt that America's allies admired its summit actions unreservedly.

No one person during these pre-convention weeks can, of course, set his party's line for the election campaign itself, not even the President. Those who speak up are taking certain risks and exposing themselves to future recriminations; the wrong guessers may even be eliminated in July.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Lead Us, O Father, In The Paths Of Peace

Lead us, O Father, in the paths of peace, Without Thy guiding hand we go astray, And doubts appall, and sorrows still increase; Lead us through Christ, the true and living Way.

Lead us, O Father, in the paths of truth: Unhelped by Thee, in error's maze we grope, While passion stains and folly dims our youth, And age comes on uncheered by faith or hope.

Lead us, O Father, in the paths of right: Blindly we stumble when we walk alone, Involved in shadows of a darkening night; Only with Thee we journey safely on.

By HORACE B. POWELL

A New England social reformer, William Henry Burleigh, who was known for his temperance writings and lectures and who wrote poems as a hobby, turned out the verses of this favorite hymn, in 1868. Samuel Sebastian Wesley, a grandson of the famous Methodist hymnist, Charles Wesley, provided the hymn-tune.

Born at Woodstock, Connecticut, on Lincoln's birthday in 1812, Mr. Burleigh was reared on his father's farm. Later, he joined the Unitarian church and in 1837 at Pittsburgh, Pa., he began the publication of the Christian Witness and Temperance Banner. In 1843 he became editor of the Christian Freeman at Hartford, Conn., and after six years in this occupation he became secretary of the New York Temperance Society. In 1855 he went to Brooklyn to serve as harbor master for the Port of New York.

Two-Day Honor

Lincoln, Neb.

We honor our dead on May 30 and include our war dead in the memorial services. Another day set aside to honor the war heroes is November 11. Two days each year to thank our war heroes for their sacrifices. The mothers, wives, widows and children have a constant reminder of the war in the handicapped or deceased loved one.

Fifteen years after World War II, many of the children are grown up and find it hard to find employment. Also the widows, after rearing their families, are left alone and find time on their hands, so seek employment only to be turned down in favor of a wife and mother with an able-bodied husband also employed. The money the widow could earn would pay for home repairs and replacing worn-out furnishings. Then when we read of some poor soul finding life not worth living, we wonder why. Employment and an occupied mind and the feeling of security would have prevented this.

The veterans expected their dependents to get a square deal. They sacrificed so much so that we would have a better world in which to live. They could have escaped military duty in defense work, perhaps, and piled up the money instead of getting killed on the pay of a private first class.

Not every employer is so inconsiderate, only a few. We realize that the farmer, defense worker and every serviceman were essential to win the war.

Should there be another war, the sons of these veterans may be called upon to make the same sacrifices, so they too may expect the same kind of thanks, with jobs again taken over by married women who think they have priority because they worked during the war. Feather your nests while you can. We, the dependents, are used to sacrificing. Why bother about our future?

On Memorial and Armistice Days, praises are sounded for the war dead. I wonder if the words of the patriotic speeches are sincere, or just a bunch of words to suit the occasion. To many it is a day of happy celebration. But to us it's a day of sad remembrance.

Representation

Crestline, Calif.

A real representative of the American taxpayers would want reporters present at all meetings pertaining to law-making and all new laws on the agenda should be published before passage so that the voters could object if proposed laws were unsatisfactory.

A real representative of the American voters would want all laws now on the books published in the newspapers and those found unconstitutional and objectionable would be discarded.

A real representative of the American people would make sure that all citizens and their children received the equal protection of our laws and their constitutional rights in court.

A real representative of the American people would make sure that all legal definitions coincided with those definitions found in Webster's Dictionary to prevent deceiving the people who vote and pay his salary.

A real representative of the American taxpayers would not burden them down with such unnecessary things as billions of foreign aid, handouts for education, UN upkeep, unequal taxation, involuntary servitude and pensions for "pinks," goldbricks and yardbirds.

Each of us could ask ourselves, how does your choice measure up?

Some Answers

Anselmo, Neb.

It certainly is refreshing to have these mothers speak out, upholding our university for punishing students. If parents would always work together with our teachers and insist on upholding law and order instead of pampering their children, we could overcome this juvenile delinquency.

If parents could only set a good example for children, it would help a lot, too. Most of us are delinquent oldsters. We break the laws, drive too fast, drink too much, gamble. We lead the world in sports and in consuming liquor. Our fifth largest industry is the tobacco industry, and we only burn it up.

Columnist Phyllis Battelle had an excellent article in the May 25 Star that I have read over many times. It is the real truth and everyone should read it and do some thinking. Why are we slipping? Why are we wondering where our money is going? Congratulations to Miss Battelle.

Lincoln, Neb.

There have been many times in the Stars of the past When men I admire have suffered a fate From the pen and the ink, the poetry, And prose Of my friend: "C. G. C."—my political foe.

Knowing nothing of meter, and still less of rhyme, I've silenced my "witty" replies every time: And I've feared that the cause which I took pen in hand and tried writing a verse.

Revenge can be sweet, C. G. C., you will find. For political conventions it soon will be time: And you will be watching on OUR television. The delegates trying to reach a decision.

Can I be blamed for reception that's poor? When Kennedy and Johnson are brought to the fore? But we'll have fun watching each avowed candidate. And listening to comments too darned late.

Flag Condition

Lincoln, Neb.

A recent issue of The Star carried an item on the condition of our city's display of flags during Armed Forces Week. We regretted very much that our national president, visiting our city, was one of the visitors who viewed the dilapidated condition of the flags.

Memorial Day is coming next Monday, May 30. We all need to be reminded of the meaning of our country's great symbol of our freedom. We are all prone to forget at times and now more than ever we should not forget its meaning.

Gage Demos Endorse Callan For Position Held By Boyle

By The Associated Press
The possibility of a contest for the post of Democratic national committeeman in Nebraska developed as reports came in from county conventions held throughout the state.

Reports contained both endorsement of the present national committeeman, Bernard Boyle of Omaha, and State Chairman Russell Hanson of Newcastle, for re-election and endorsement of possible opposition.

The Gage County Democratic post-primary convention endorsed Clair Callan of Odell for national committeeman, but Callan has not made up his mind if he will make the race.

Callan, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator, was a running mate of Frank Morrison, the nominee for governor, who has asked that Boyle be dumped. Morrison said Boyle had been dedicated "to my defeat."

Boyle's reply was to say he would leave the decision on his leadership up to the state convention.

Callan, who did not attend the Gage County meeting because of a personal commitment, said he wanted to consult with "some of my Democratic friends in other parts of the state" before making up his mind.

"But it appears right now that the vote in the state convention will be loaded for Mr. Boyle, especially in Omaha and Lincoln," he said. "However, a convention would be pretty dull without any contests."

Both Morrison and Callan had accused Boyle of favoring their opponents. Administrative Assistant Robert B. Conrad and Gov. Ralph Brooks in the primary.

Other resolutions favoring re-election of Boyle and Hanson were passed at the Dixon and Scotts Bluff County gatherings.

The Lancaster County meeting elected a slate of state convention delegates which was expected to heavily favor Boyle.

The big Douglas County meeting had two slates to vote on. One was described as composed mainly of Boyle supporters. The other had among its floor leaders David Weinberg, attorney for labor unions, and Leonard Schaeffer, a union business agent. There was some duplication on the slates.

"Red Ribbon Group"
All of the new county officers chosen in Douglas County were recommended by the so-called red ribbon group which included Weinberg and Schaeffer. Most of this group wore red ribbons in their lapels.

Alfred Fiedler, an attorney, was named county chairman, succeeding Ephraim Marks, who did not seek re-election. Also named were Catherine Dahlquist, chairwoman; James E. Donahue, secretary; and Richard Schoettger, treasurer.

John North, whose name appeared on both slates, was elected convention chairman. James F. Green, a member of the Boyle slate, who had been previously mentioned for the chairmanship, nominated North.

Besides Weinberg and Schaeffer, there were a number of other labor leaders on the red ribbon slate. But Richard Nisley, president of the Nebraska AFL-CIO, and Herbert Stocker, national representative here of the AFL-CIO, were on both slates. Larry Glynn, head of the Omaha area Committee on Political Education, was on the so-called Boyle list.

Mrs. George Abdouch, executive secretary of Nebraskans for Kennedy, was with the Boyle group, and Riff Fournier, executive secretary of Nebraskans for Symington, was on the other.

However, there was no clear indication that the slates were drawn up either on Kennedy-Symington or Boyle-Morrison lines.

About 150 Democrats attended a Burt County rally held at Oakland with state party officials and candidates as guests.

There was no evidence of lack of party harmony as National Committeeman Bernard Boyle shared the platform with gubernatorial candidate Frank Morrison.

Results of county Democratic convention elections included:

Gage—Robert Brandt, Beatrice, chairman; Dennis Winkler of Pickrell, vice chairman; Abby Huska of Beatrice, secretary; Jim Key of Beatrice, treasurer. Delegates: Chairman, vice chairman and chairwoman plus Hale McCown of Beatrice, Ruby Bailey of Odell, Dick Holbeck of Wymore and Clair Callan, Odell.

Resolutions included endorsement of Callan for national committeeman. Butler—Mrs. Lillian Kozisek, chairman; Emil DeWaple, vice chairman; Mrs. Leonard Roh, chairwoman; Mrs. E. J. Bohoslavsky, secretary; Alfred Novacek, treasurer. Delegates: Mrs. Kozisek, Fred Coufal, Louis Nankies, Novacek, and Mrs. Pete Brinkel. Convention expressed support of Frank Morrison and all other Democratic candidates and confidence in National Committeeman Bernard Boyle and State Chairman Russell Hanson.

Johnson—Philip Nestor of Tecumseh, chairman; John J. McGrath of Crab Orchard, vice chairman; Raymond B. Morsey, secretary-treasurer. Delegates: chairman and Mrs. Anna Robertson of Elk Creek, and Mrs. Mae Moeller of Cook, committee to vote for Bernard Boyle.

Pawnee—B. S. Muschietta of Pawnee City, chairman; Roger Sundusky of Pawnee City, vice chairman; William F. Collwell of Pawnee City, secretary-treasurer. State delegates: chairman and vice chairman plus Vernon Sundusky of Table Rock. Convention tentatively passed resolution in support of Boyle and Hanson.

Hartington, Wymore Men Die In Accidents

By The Associated Press
Two more names were added to the Nebraska highway death toll Friday. This brings the total for 1960 to 82, compared with 117 at this time last year.

The victims are: Rodney M. Koch, 20, Hartington.

Gerald L. Werner, 59, Wymore.

Cedar County Sheriff John Riebe of Hartington said that Koch was killed Friday when his car went out of control and crashed into a ditch a mile north of Coleridge on Nebraska 15. He was alone in the car and the sheriff said he may have fallen asleep.

Werner died in a Beatrice hospital of injuries suffered in an intersection collision in Wymore Tuesday morning.

Werner's pickup truck and a car driven by William Elliott of Marysville, Kan., were involved in the near head-on collision. Elliott suffered severe face and scalp injuries.

Gorton Wins Johnson GOP Chairmanship
Fight Revived On Postmaster

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau
Tecumseh — Johnson County's newly elected Republican committee has revived the Tecumseh postmaster appointment battle.

The 42 delegates attending the county convention passed a resolution by 30-7 which asks Nebraska congressmen to withdraw their endorsement of John Putman. His appointment has already advanced through every step except official confirmation by the U.S. Senate.

Don Gorton, who has spearheaded opposition to Putman, was elected new county chairman — a job long held by the main backer of Putman, Walter Kiechel Sr.

Kiechel was defeated as a delegate after some 30 years of county GOP leadership. The 74-year-old former chairman is recovering from a recent heart attack.

Although the resolution did not list specific reasons for seeking a reconsideration, Gorton said that "basically we just don't feel that proper methods were used in selecting Putman."

No Lag Seen In GI-Lexington Work

Omaha (AP)—Interstate Highway construction should "go faster" between Grand Island and Lexington than in the Lincoln-Omaha area, John Hossack, acting state engineer, said Friday.

Hossack, who appeared at a luncheon meeting of the roads committee of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, also predicted that this would be another "record construction year" if the weather is favorable.

He said the first construction on the 75-mile Interstate 80 leg between Grand Island and Lexington should start early next year. It should progress rapidly because the land is fairly flat, reducing cuts and fills; there will be fewer grade separations and interchanges, and fewer right-of-way acquisition problems as much of the land is held in large parcels.

Also to be started in the near future, "by next year at this time," were numerous other segments.

On Route 80 in the South Omaha area from 72nd Street to the Belt Line railroad tracks, the grade should be ready for paving by the time the railroad structures are complete, the latter scheduled for letting late this year.

Then work should start on the 31st and Grover interchange, at least the part of it west of the Belt Line. Contracts for the first construction should be let sometime this fall.

On Route 3 or Interstate 480 from Frederick to Dewey Streets, contracts on structures may be let this fall.

For the Douglas Street bridge across the Missouri River, preliminary engineering has been started, and construction should follow the segment from 31st and Grover to downtown Omaha.

In the Lincoln area, contracts on the northern portion of the Lincoln city route, Interstate 180, should be let next spring, and on the rest later in the year.

Saturday, May 28, 1960 The Lincoln Star 5

The northern section will be from the junction with Interstate 80 south to Oak Street. The southern section will be from there across Oak Creek channel, Oak Lake, Salt Creek and the railroad tracks to 10th and R Streets.

August Letting
On Interstate 80 from the Lincoln Air Force Base road to West Lincoln, all construction contracts are scheduled to be let this August. Plans are being prepared for the next segment westward, from the air base road to Milford. Contracts may be let in 1961, but will probably be deferred until later if plans are ready on the Grand Island-North Platte section, he said.

As for finances, Hossack anticipated the state will have $26 million state and federal money for fiscal 1961, available June 30, 1960.

In Memoriam

They have not died in vain...those who paid with their lives the last full measure. Today, Memorial Day, is the day to remember Lexington, Gettysburg, Santiago Bay, Chateau Thierry, Coral Sea, Okinawa, Palermo, Normandy and Korea. We need only to look at the cemeteries of the world to realize the supreme sacrifice that was called for, that we might be secure. It called for the giving of life itself for many a man; for untold sorrow and heartache for friends and loved ones. As they bravely died, so we must bravely live. God has a destiny for us, for America, and only eyes of faith can read that destiny. Each drop of blood spilled from Bunker Hill to Iwo Jima, is a deposit in the bank of our country. One hundred sixty-five million Americans can do no less than dedicate ourselves anew. With our Alabaster Ointment of thankfulness, let us nobly remember those who laid themselves between our country and her foes. This is Memorial Day.

West Coast Guests

Pictured with their 3-year-old daughter, Elaine, are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stewart of Claremont, Calif., who arrived in Lincoln the first of the week. The Stewarts are visiting Mr. Stewart's mother, Mrs. Don W. Stewart, and a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stewart.

Dear Abby— Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am stupid but this question has to be answered and I am depending on you.

My daughter is eleven and she is maturing rapidly. I developed early, too. I suppose she is taking after me. I just can't bring myself to tell her the facts of life. I have tried, but I can't seem to find the right words. She is a bright girl and I think it would be easier if she would read it in a book. Are there any books for eleven-year-olds on this subject?

TONGUE-TIED:
DEAR TONGUE-TIED: Ask your local librarian. You will be delighted with the assortment of books written especially for the Junior Miss on this subject.

DEAR ABBY: To make a long story short, I am engaged to a guy who said he lives in Chicago, but I don't know his address. He was in the Navy and we met in Florida when I was on my vacation. I would like to get a hold of him to find out if he still wants to get married. I have some of his clothes he left at my place. Please hurry your answer. I don't have all year.

JEANNIE IN THE POLKA DOT BIKINI
DEAR JEANNIE: I think you can consider yourself "disengaged." A man who seriously intends to marry a girl doesn't have to be tracked down and asked to repeat the proposal.

DEAR ABBY: I doubt if there is a woman in the world who is a worse cook than I am. I am perfectly capable of running a household and I am not lazy. But how I hate to cook!

Do you suppose there is a man somewhere who would marry me and overlook this one fault?

I am very easy to get along with. I love children and animals. I don't mind cigar or pipe smoke and I am not the jealous type.

Every man I talk to about this seems to think that if a woman can't cook, she isn't worth marrying. I'd like some opinions on this.

CAN'T COOK
DEAR CAN'T: Anyone who can read can cook. What you need is an inspiration. Don't advertise your faults. Find the man first. If you love him, you'll learn. If he loves you, he'll be patient. Few women are fortunate enough to get a man who will not only bring home the bacon but will cook it himself; or hire someone to do it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DISGUSTED DAD: Your father means well—but he is making a serious mistake by asking his friends in high places to recommend you for a college that is probably too difficult for you. If you can't get in on your own merits, how long does he think you will stay there?

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Would imagine it's a rather busy time in the H. L. Harrison household presently as Mr. and Mrs. Harrison and their daughter, Brenda, are completing preparations for a summer trip to Europe. Accompanying the Harrison family will be Mr. Harrison's sister, Mrs. J. K. Griffith, and her son, John, of Springfield, Ill., and her daughter, Miss Katy Griffith, who attends the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

The travelers, who will spend two months overseas visiting some 11 countries, plan to leave Lincoln around June 8, to spend a few days in New York before embarking on June 15.

Honored at a dessert supper and bridge party on Thursday, May 26, was Mrs. Gordon Pauley. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. Ray Martin, and the 16 guests were invited to the Martin home for the evening.

During the party a surprise baby shower was presented to Mrs. Pauley.

Word has it that Mr. and Mrs. Jack Charman of Ft. Collins, Colo., arrived in town last night to spend the Memorial Day week end with Mrs. Charman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Cook, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cook.

Expecting out of town guests next week end are Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Meyer. The visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Landgraf and their daughter, Tammy, of Indianapolis, Ind., are due to arrive June 4, for a week's stay.

Visiting in Lincoln last week was Mrs. Kenneth Wells and her son, Greg, of Sutton. They spent four days as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Wentink.

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

The finesse is a marvelous instrument of play. By its use the declarer is able to capture a trick with a card that is lower in rank than one held by an opponent.

But familiarity with the nuances of a finesse may turn out to be a liability to even the experienced player, unless he also is conscious that the finesse is a weapon capable of abuse.

The presence of a finesse situation does not necessarily call for its use. There may be alternate methods of play available to the declarer that are superior to the finesse. In fact, it is practically a rule of thumb that a finesse should never be attempted before other expedients are thoroughly investigated.

The case in hand illustrates the principle. South is playing five clubs. He sees that the only possible losers are two spades and a diamond. The diamond trick can be saved by taking a finesse against the queen.

The difficulty is that South does not know which opponent has the queen. If West has it, declarer should lead a low diamond from his hand and finesse, but if East has it, the finesse will be successful only by leading low from dummy and playing low from the South hand.

The unfortunate effect of guessing incorrectly which way to take the finesse is that South will be defeated, losing a diamond and two spades.

To combat the possibility of error, declarer should plan to avoid the finesse altogether because he has a sure way to make the contract. Guesswork is for the birds when a positive alternative is available.

South wins the heart lead, draws a round of trump, and cashes the other high heart. Then he plays a spade from either hand and his troubles are over.

It makes no difference what the defenders do. They may cash two spade tricks, but then, regardless of which defender is on lead, the hand is finished. Either a diamond will be returned, giving South a free finesse, or another suit, giving South a ruff and discard.

Farewell parties can be gay affairs — particularly when it's an Hawaiian Luau as was held on Friday night to Cotner Terrace to say "aloha" to Cecile Luthultz, Jr., who with his parents, will be moving to California. The 60 guests, Millard Lefler schoolmates of the honoree, also took advantage of the occasion to mark the approaching close of the school year.

Barbecue

Miss Charlotte Schulz and Miss Kathy Kinney were hostesses on Friday, May 27, at a "beatnik" barbecue and dance held at the Schulz home. Thirty junior high teenagers were on hand for the end-of-the-school-year party.

As is a custom in the Islands, the native girls bestow a lei of flowers on departing visitors, and pic-

In Service Circles

BY SYBIL WEBBER

Pre-graduation activities have taken the spotlight for present, so for the most part this week we just sat back and set our sights on the Mom's rushing from school affair to another. might add that this calls for some pretty fancy foot work for some of them!

Recognition Day was held at General Arnold School on Thursday afternoon for members of the sixth grade graduating class and we understand the kindergarten entertained not too long ago with a Mother's Tea. Then, of course, Thursday was a big day for all the small fry who bus to town to attend nursery school classes. They got the full treatment... caps and pins (in pink, yet!) and diplomas, of course.

...social activities didn't really come to a complete halt because our party calendar made note of some farewell courtesies this week for Mrs. Paul Ecelbarger, leaving soon for a visit with relatives in Penn., prior to going to Arizona.

Mrs. Roy Clark entertained with a luncheon at the Officers Club last Monday for Helen and her mother, Mrs. Anne Reinhart. On Thursday, wives of the 371st Bomb Sqdn. honored her at a luncheon at the club.

... yesterday afternoon Mrs. Jack Orewyler hosted a stork shower at the NCO Club for Mrs. Marvin Ussery. About 30 guests were asked to attend.

... the Jet Set bid farewell to one of their group when Mikal Myers, daughter of Major and Mrs. Jim Myers and Nina Callow, daughter of M/Sgt and Mrs. Marvin Callow, entertained with an informal supper and dancing party on Wednesday evening for Phyllis Thompson, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Thompson. The party was tossed at the Callow quarters and about 30 guests attended the soiree. Phyllis leaves for Morocco this week end with her parents.

... our birthday book had Marc Crooks' name down so we called his Mom, Mrs. Robert D. Crooks, and sure enough there was a party to celebrate the event. Marc was 5 years old last Wednesday and 12 of his friends came for supper.

... we understand that Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Murphy have a young house guest from Bluntsville, Alabama. We're speaking of Elaine's niece, Cordelia Jolly, a welcome addition to the teen set.

... and, the Richard Wilford's are entertaining house guests over the Memorial Day weekend. The visitors are Marge's brother, CPO (ret.) Robert S. Jackson, Mrs. Jackson and son Robbie. They are en route from Florida to California. What a nice place to be from... and to!

Spring Parties Honor Bride-Elect

A popular June bride-to-be is Miss Barbara Jorgensen whose marriage to Don Wenzl will take place on Saturday, June 25.

Honoring Miss Jorgensen on Wednesday, June 8, will be Mrs. E. F. Villiers who will be hostess at a brunch at her home. During the morning hours, the 17 guests will present the bride-elect with a linen shower.

On Wednesday evening, May 18, Miss Jorgensen was presented a bathroom shower at a party for which Mrs. Rolland Winders was hostess at her home. Following a dessert supper, the evening was spent informally. Other recent courtesies for the bride-to-be include the crystal shower given by Mrs. Leonard Davey and Mrs. Kenneth Kimmel at the home of Mrs. Davey, and the dessert luncheon and kitchen shower for which Mrs. Paul Young, Jr., was hostess.

Mrs. Robert Wylie and Mrs. Leon Kelly also entertained for Miss Jorgensen personal shower held at the recently at a brunch and Wylie home.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. ## Sherry Gets 5th Straight For Dodgers

Chicago (AP) — World Series hero Larry Sherry rescued starting pitcher Stan Williams in the 7th inning Friday and preserved a 5-3 victory for the Los Angeles Cubs.

The Dodgers scored all of their runs in the first 4 innings and extended their winning streak to 5 games.

Williams registered his second triumph against no defeat. Cub starter Glen Hobbie was tagged with his 6th loss in 9 decisions.

Los Angeles wasted little time in sending Hobbie to the showers and staking Williams to a 5-run lead. Singles by Frank Howard, Duke Snider and Johnny Roseboro resulted in two runs in the second inning.

Barber Maintains 1-Stroke 500 Lead

... Sanders Challenges

Indianapolis (AP)—First round leader Jerry Barber withstood strong pressure with a two-under-par 69 Friday and held his lead by a stroke at the halfway point in the $50,000 Invitational 500 Festival Open.

Barber's 132 total for 36 holes was 10 strokes under groom Doug Sanders whose 65 was the day's best round. Sanders opened with a 68 Thursday.

The diminutive Barber's putter, which carried him to an opening 63, cooled off as he was nearly overhauled by Sanders.

Doug Ford, Jack Burke and Johnny Pott came next at 134.

The 149-player field was trimmed to approximately 90 for the final two rounds in the quest for a $9,000 first prize. The cutoff line was 145.

Art Wall with 68-67 was 3 strokes off the pace with 135 while bracketed at 136 were Chick Harbert, Dow Finsterwald and Jerry Pittman.

Sanders 26, was greeted with a big kiss by his bride of 6 weeks, Joan, when he finished the 18th hole.

Sanders, former Canadian Open champion, had a chance to tie for the lead, but on the 18th hole he pushed his second shot into a sand trap and had to settle for a par 5 on a hole that consistently has yielded birdies.

Sanders last victory came in 1959 at Coral Gables.

Barber, who Thursday hacked eight strokes off par, Friday was able to come up with only 3 birdies, two of which came on the first 3 holes.

Five strokes behind Barber at 137 were Bob Toski and Gene Littler, while deadlocked at 138 were the top amateur, Ronnie Atwell, formerly of Purdue University, Don January, Mason Rodolph, Don Whit, George Bayer and South African star Gary Player.

Portrush, Northern Ireland (AP)—Bob Cochran, a weary, 47-year-old American, hung on grimly all day and then grabbed a dramatic victory at the 38th hole over Gordon Huddy of England and entered the final of the British Amateur Golf Championship Friday.

Trailled All Day

The St. Louis paper salesman will meet Joe Carr of Ireland, a two-time winner and the pre-tourney favorite, in the 36-hole title match today.

Behind most of the day, the lean, graying Cochran squared the match by taking the 34th and 35th holes and then won on the second hole of the sudden death playoff. He scored a birdie 4 to Huddy's 5 on the 510-yard 38th thanks to two superb shots which put him on the green. He got down in two putts.

It was the first time the scrappy Yankee had his nose in front of the 29-year-old Englishman in 7 1/2 hours of gruelling, pressure-packed golf.

Carr, 37-year-old Walker Cup player from Dublin, also had to come from behind to defeat Jimmy Walker, a 39-year-old Scot, 2 up, in another ding-dong match that see-sawed over the full 6,842 yards of the par 36-36-72 Royal Portrush links.

Cochran, who calls himself a week-end golfer, never has won a major championship. If he beats the

Don Jordan Loses Title On Decision

... No Knockdowns

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba grabbed the world's welterweight championship Friday night with a unanimous 15-round decision over Don Jordan of Los Angeles.

Paret—20-year-old one-time sugar cane cutter from Santa Clara, Cuba—hacked and chopped out the victory over the 25-year-old Jordan, who was making his 3rd defense of the crown he won Dec. 5, 1958 from Virgil Akins.

Paret weighed 146 1/2 and Jordan 144 1/2.

There were no knockdowns in the nationally televised bout, but it was a tough and bruising battle for the full 15 rounds.

Referee Charlie Randolph, imported from Los Angeles to handle the match, scored it under the 5-point per round system as 72 for Paret and 65 for Jordan.

Local judges Ralph Mosa had it 72-67 and Ray Lessard 71-68 for Paret.

The Associated Press had it 72-70 for the Cuban slasher. A crowd estimated at around 3,000 watched the battle in Las Vegas' Convention Center.

Jordan, who went into the fight a 5-8 underdog, started out strong and closed at least even with his younger foe.

But the champion, on his way to dethronement, seemed to lose speed and power after the first 5 rounds and didn't regain a semblance of it until too late.

Knocked out in 4 rounds last December by Argentina's Federico Thompson and outpointed just 12 days ago by Candy McFarland in Baltimore, Jordan was hardly the puncher-boxer he once had been.

There was little bloodshed. Jordan came up with a sliced cut over his left eye in the 3rd round and was bleeding slightly from the nose at the finish.

Paret, indeed a busy young man with both fists, left the ring unmarked.

Paret repeatedly was catcalled by Jordan booster for punches that landed at or just below the belt line.

Randolph warned Benny The Kid just once. Most of the time Randolph indicated that Jordan was deflecting the body blows with his elbows.

Jordan was guaranteed $85,000 for the title defense, and he and Paret have a private signed agreement calling for a rematch within 90 days.

The National Boxing Assn. and the Nevada Athletic Commission do not recognize the rematch agreement.

Juris Jesifers, standout Lincoln High track performer, will attend the University of Nebraska, track coach Frank Sevrigne announced Friday.

Jesifers also an outstanding student, won gold medals in the State Track and Field Championships last week by tying for first in the pole vault and broad jump. He has also gone over 6 feet in the high jump.

He'll be a pre-medical student at NU.

Rosell Hits Cycle In Rout Of Chiefs

... Topeka's Touchberry Gives 4 Hits

By Don Bryant

Marty Rosell — an old Lincoln nemesis — hit for the cycle Friday night at Sherman Field to lead the Topeka Hawks to a 15-0 execution of the Lincoln Chiefs before 438 horrified fans.

It was the first meeting of the two teams this season, and as far as the Chiefs were concerned it never should have been arranged.

Murder it was as Big Bert Touchberry gave the punchless Chiefs only 4 hits, while he joined his mates in bombing 5 Lincoln pitchers for 15 hits.

Rosell, who used to give Lincoln occasional fits when he was with Albuquerque and Topeka in the old Western League, had a field day.

The Hawk second baseman drove in 6 runs after getting an infield single in the second inning. After that he drove in a run with a double and stole home in the 7-run Topeka 3rd, banged home 3 runs with a homer in the 6th and tripled in the 8th to drive in another pair.

Chiefs Helpless

Lincoln, meanwhile, could do absolutely nothing with soft-tossing Touchberry. Dick Selinger got the first hit, a single to center, in the 4th. Dean Look doubled in the 5th but was cut down in a doubleplay, Jim Campbell—making his catching debut—drilled an infield single off Hawk third baseman Marv Schultz's ankle in the 5th and No. 3 Pitcher Bob Gruber got an infield single in the 6th.

The rest of the evening the Chiefs were shagging balls for the Hawks, all of whom got at least one hit except Left Fielder Ray Vaughan — the No. 8 hitter — who settled for 4 walks.

Ed Szczywiski started and lost when he failed to make one out in the 4th inning.

Luis Aparicio, who hit a pair of triples and two singles and scored 4 runs, was the batting star for Chicago. Gene Freeze also hit a two run homer for the Sox.

Bryant Special Moved To 33rd

... At Indianapolis

Indianapolis (P) — Jimmy Daywalt resigned in a huff, so substitute Dempsey Wilson of Hawthorne, Calif. will drive the Bryant Special in the 33rd position on Memorial Day 500 Monday.

Chief steward Harland Fenger moved the car back from 26th to last, explaining that Wilson was unfamiliar to the car.

Daywalt, who earned the 6th spot in time trials, quit in the middle of the week with the statement that mechanics had readjusted the car to the point where he could not get within 5 miles of his 143.215 m.p.h. qualifying speed.

The former holder of the Speedway's 250-mile record, protested, "I'm not going to race when I know I can't win." He became the first driver to bow out in 13 years.

Bosox Smite Pascual 3rd Time In Row

Washington (P) — Boston's Red Sox, stung by 11 defeats in 12 games, Friday night whipped Washington ace Camillo Pascual for the 3rd time this season. The score was 4-3.

Fist-swinging players of both teams surged onto the field in the 5th inning following a verbal exchange between Boston's Pete Runnels and Pascual.

SMALL TALK

By Paul LeBar

Star Sports Staff Writer

'Tis Shocking But True

Maybe it shouldn't be repeated out loud. Nebraska's oldest amateur baseball league once dirtied its skirts by hiring pitching talent. Gilbert E. Dilla of Farwell, chief tub-thumper for the Sherman-Howard League, reports on the interlude: "For a short time in early days some towns hired pitching talent, but they soon gave up when they lost games anyhow."

That should have taught those unscrupulous scoundrels a thing or two.

Hence, Sherman-Howard

Correspondent Dilla, league secretary-treasurer, comes by his chronicling for the 49-year-old central Nebraska circuit naturally.

His father, G. A. Dilla, helped organize the league back in 1912 and later served as league secretary for over 30 years.

Historically the younger Dilla notes that charter members included Loup City, Ashton and Rockville of Sherman County and Farwell, Belous and Dannebrog of Howard County.

St. Paul newspaperman J. F. Webster of St. Paul was the first president and George Polski of Ashton the first secretary.

Without reflecting against the late Mr. Webster, the very nature of his business makes it remarkable the league has done so well.

50th Anniversary Due

There's no reason to believe the Sherman-Howard, now numbering 8 members, won't next year celebrate its 50th anniversary.

Its tenure is uninterrupted save breaks from World War I until 1925 and from World War II until 1947.

Twenty-five towns have been league members from one time to another since the inaugural.

Charter members Farwell, Loup City and Ashton are still sticking by their guns.

Young sprouts are Wolbach, Scotia, Ord, Spalding and Greeley.

'Taint Summer Yet

Evidence that summer's not quite upon us. Junior's still got two weeks left to go in school... The grass still needs a chopping twice a week... Pop's golf scores are still in the 90s.

Next week's the biggest of the year for the ambitious National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, ranking small college group.

Sioux Falls, S. D., where over 10,000 turned out in two nights last June, hosts its second straight NAIA track and field championships Friday and Saturday.

Sioux City, Ia., is site for the NAIA baseball tournament beginning a week from Monday... Looks like the Sioux has it.

Cincinnati (P) — Burley Ed Bailey hit a grand slam home run that gave the Cincinnati Reds a tie-breaking 9-5 victory over Milwaukee's Braves in the 9th inning Friday night.

Reliever Ken MacKenzie had kept the Reds under tight check for two innings before he ran into big trouble.

Milwaukee had stacked up an early lead, mainly on Ed Mathews' two homers.

The Reds packed in 7 hits in the 5th and 6th innings, tying the score, 5-5.

4 $100,000-Added Races On Memorial Weekend

By the Associated Press

Two of four $100,000-added holiday week-end horse races will be run this afternoon, with a dozen 3-year-olds meeting in the 84th Withers Mile at Aqueduct and 8 older horses contesting the Californian Stakes at Hollywood Park. More than $500,000 in added money will be offered in major stakes today and Monday.

Louis Wolfson's Francis S., who won the Wood Memorial last month, is the favorite for the Withers as jockey Eddie Araro goes after his 7th victory in the race.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Johnson's Fleet Nasrullah, with Johnny Longden up, is favored for the mile and one sixteenth Californian. Longden won the initial Californian in 1954, and rode Seaneen to an upset victory over Round Table in 1958.

On Monday, Kentucky Derby winner Venetian Way and Preakness winner Bally Ace tangle again in the $100,000 Jersey Derby at Garden State. At Aqueduct, the 1959 horse of the year, Sword Dancer, and Bald Eagle and First Landing fight it out in one of the year's top races—the $100,000 Metropolitan Handicap.

The Withers, moved over to Aqueduct from Belmont Park, should produce a couple of candidates for the $125,000 Belmont Stakes June 11 to oppose Venetian Way and Bally Ace. Pebblebrook Farm's Irish Lancer, King Ranch's Disperse, and Jack Dreyfus' Beau Purple are seen as top threats to Francis S.

Seaneen, 119 pounds, runs as an entry with Finnegan, 123; both owned by N. S. McCarthy, in the Californian. Fleet Nasrullah packs 119, with C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon, 118, H. B. Keck's Bagdad, 123, and A. G. Vanderbilt's Find, 111.

Seizure May Boost Turkey

By Arthur Gavshon

London (AP)—The army's seizure of power in Turkey could strengthen an exposed and vital Western salient against Soviet pressures.

For the ouster of Prime Minister Adnan Menderes' autocratic government raised hopes in the West for an era of liberal and enlightened government in Turkey.

Spanning Europe and Asia, Turkey has long been the target of Soviet Russian threats and thrusts. A renewal of Soviet pressures against Turkey — and Iran — has been feared as one consequence of the collapse of the Summit parley. With Menderes in power it seemed Turkey's bitter political divisions would go on indefinitely to the advantage of the ever-watchful Russians.

For Menderes had been driven from extreme to extreme in his bid to cope with the month-long crisis sparked by student demonstrations against his government. Only last week he claimed "peace and tranquility" had been restored to the country.

Martial Law

Yet the nation's main cities were under martial law, universities were closed, the press stifled and all political activity outside parliament banned letter and telegram censorship had been imposed, telephone tapping authorized and gatherings of more than 5 people forbidden.

In this simmering situation two highly significant incidents took place which resulted in the decision of army leaders to abandon their traditionally neutral stand in politics.

First, last month Menderes ordered the army to prevent Gen. Ismet Inonu from addressing a scheduled political rally at Kayseri outside Ankara. The army hesitated. But the leader of the opposition Republican People's party did not. After being delayed a while, he decided to walk through the soldiers' lines.

When he did so the troops simply opened their ranks and many cried out in salute "Ismet Pasha, Ismet Pasha!"

It was a tribute to the man who worked alongside the loved Kemal Ataturk, who built modern Turkey.

Disciplined

In the inquiries that followed Menderes disciplined some of the army officers involved.

Soon afterward he got a surprising protest for doing this from the man who commanded Turkey's ground forces. The man was Gen. Cemal Gursel.

Menderes then sought to punish Gursel. The general was sent on indefinite leave, pending retirement in June. But 3 weeks ago Gursel resigned, presumably to free himself from the restraints of his rank.

Thus a revolt was born. The second incident, on May 21, was a protest March by 800 military cadets through Ankara demonstrating against Menderes' policies.

A mere complaint over weekend furlough arrangements, a government spokesman asserted. But Menderes ordered Ankara's two military academies — the West Points of Turkey — shut down from this weekend.

Good Record

Gursel appears to have an impeccable army record. He campaigned against the Allies at Gallipoli and Palestine during World War I. He was a British prisoner of war. During the Turkish War of Independence later he won a medal for bravery. In 1946 he was promoted to Brigadier General and 3 years ago became a full General.

VICE PRESIDENT ASSERTS DEMO TRIO 'OUT OF STEP'

Melvin, Ill. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon Friday asserted that Adlai Stevenson and Senators John Kennedy and Stuart Symington are "out of step" with the majority of the members of their party in attempting to make what he called a partisan issue of the Summit conference.

Nixon opened fire at a news conference at the Democratic Presidential nominee of 1952 and 1956, and the two Democratic Senators who are bidding for that party's nomination this year.

"They are," he said, "out of step not only with the majority of Democrats in Congress, but in their own party in attempting to make a partisan issue of the Summit conference."

Stevenson particularly has been sharply critical of the Eisenhower Administration for what he terms the blunders in the events that led up to the abortive summit conference in Paris.

15 Year Glass Lined HOT WATER Automatic Water Heater GREEN FURNACE PLUMBING CO., INC. 2747 No. 48th IN 6-2377

The Vice President came to this town of 535 to help Rep. Leslie Arends, 64, House minority whip, celebrate "Les Arends Day." Thousands swarmed into the village Friday for a giant fish fry, speech-making and all the trimmings of a political feast.

A reporter mentioned that some Democrats had suggested that Stevenson be given equal time to reply to the President's radio-TV address of Wednesday night.

Nixon quipped in reply: Ask Demos

"They ought to take a vote of all Democrats to see if they want Stevenson to be their spokesman."

Nixon was asked if he would support Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York if Rockefeller obtained the Republican Presidential nomination.

Nixon, who presently has more than enough delegate support to win the top spot on the GOP ticket, said he would support whoever is nominated, and that includes anyone who has been prominently mentioned.

The Vice President talked with about 70 newsmen and spectators in the back yard of Arends' home. A drizzle fell during much of the news conference, but it did not seem to bother the Vice President or youngsters and adults who peered over a fence.

Nixon teed off on Stevenson and the Senators from Massachusetts and Missouri after he had been asked about his reaction to comments by Sen. Thruston Morton (Ky.), chairman of the Republican national committee, and Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.).

Chadron Attorney Is Suspended For Year

... Was Grandsinger Counsel

The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday suspended Charles A. Fisher, Chadron attorney, from the practice of law for a period of one year.

The Bar Assn. charged that Fisher "knowingly and contemptuously" forced the end of a tapered wooden dowel through the hole in Hansen's trousers belt "in such manner as to increase the size of the hole and thereby to damage the probative value" of it as an exhibit.

According to the high court's opinion, Lt. Wayne Byler of the Nebraska Safety Patrol had testified before the jury he could not "test" the

Iron-Worker Strike At Wayne Over

Dr. William A. Brandenberg, president of Wayne State College, has notified the State Normal Board that an iron-workers strike that halted a dormitory construction job at the school has ended.

Construction had been halted for 5 weeks and the board had feared the dormitory would not be ready when school opens in the fall. The union, the board said, wanted all workers hired through the Sioux City, Iowa, central union hall.

The settlement involving 6 unions and the Sioux City, Iowa, Master Building Assn., called for wage increases of approximately 15 cents an hour for each of three years. It also provided for the use of a hiring hall to supply labor for the contractors, and included special provisions covering the settlement of disputes, picketing procedure, termination of contract date and provisions governing sub-contracting.

Painters Involved

Unions involved were the ironworkers, carpenters, operating engineers, cement finishers, painters and laborers.

The contractor on the one-million-dollar project is the Chris Hansen Construction Co., Sioux City.

The Wayne project was only one of the projects affected by the dispute.

In view of the 40-day strike there is some question whether the dormitory can be completed by the opening of the fall term, but a college spokesman said it might be possible to have one of the two sections completed. The building is being constructed in two sections joined by a common recreation hall.

2 Liquor Licenses Are Suspended

The State Liquor Control Commission Friday suspended two licenses.

The Class C liquor license of Paul B. Allen of Omaha was suspended for 10 days for selling beer to a minor.

The beer license of Bohumil Slechta of Palmyra was suspended for 5 days for selling beer to minors.

The commission denied a beer license of Charles W. Strong of Omaha. The Douglas County Board also recommended denial.

A beer license was issued to Elsie Christiansen of Nebraska City after the commission received no recommendation from the city council. Protests had been filed.

EXECUTION OF OMAHAN LUTHER WESLEY WILSON SET SEPT. 23

The execution date for Luther Wesley Wilson of Omaha was set by the Nebraska Supreme Court Friday for Friday, Sept. 23.

The court set the date in its opinion affirming Wilson's conviction of murder in the district court for Douglas County.

Wilson was convicted and sentenced to death in the fatal shooting Feb. 28, 1958, of Raymond Rasmussen, a clerk at Fishers Liquor Market, sometimes known as Aronson's Liquor Market, in Omaha.

His execution date was previously set for Jan. 12, but was automatically stayed pending his appeal to the supreme court.

The prosecution said Wilson killed Rasmussen while attempting to rob the store. Wilson's attorneys contended in the appeal that his confession was obtained after he had been held for 12 days at the police station and "subjected to regular and frequent questioning."

They also said the decision of the jury to order the death penalty was based on a jury room discussion to the effect that life imprisonment in Nebraska means only about 10 years imprisonment, and that this discussion constituted misconduct.

At a subsequent hearing, Mrs. Lorraine A. Walker, administrative assistant for the State of Nebraska Board of Pardons and Paroles, said the average time served by those convicted of murder was 16½ years before parole.

Questioned Testimony

The attorneys also questioned the testimony of an accomplice in the case, and cited other points of law.

The high court said "there is no competent showing" of any violation by the jury of the doctrine of making a decision without influence as to whether a parole, pardon or other clemency is easy or difficult to secure.
